VALENTINE, NEB., LOSING OUT—

Emphasis Now On Love(land)

King Valentine was deserted Friday. Valentine, Neb., the old favorite of stamp collectors and the sentimental on St. Valentine's Day, has apparently lost her appeal.

Meanwhile, newly popular Loveland, Colo., nestled near the foothills of the Colorado Rockies, processed an avalanche of mail Friday for thousands of lovers and collectors (stamp) throughout the nation and the world.

Valentine used to process as many as 25,000 pieces of mail during the Valentine season. This year, only some 2,500 pieces from outside Nebraska have come in for remailing. Total Valentine mail will average six to eight thousand pieces.

75,000 Valentines
Loveland processed some 75,000 Valentines Friday.

In Valentine's heyday, Postmaster Doug Hammon said, exquisite hand-drawn Valentines were sent in for remailing, but this year not a one of the artistic caliber was received.

The biggest item in the Valentine business is a series of specially drawn Valentines prepared by Mrs. Jeannette Shepard, a bank cashier, for sale to the public. That has pushed up local Valentine mailing somewhat, Hammon said.

About all that's left is the "sentimental" mailing, he noted.

Swamped

Time was when the Post Office was swamped by stamp collectors seeking "covers" with the Valentine cachet designed by Hammon's predecessor, Mrs. Marguerite Phelps, and the postmark.

At Loveland, officials expect mailing to be about the same as last year when letters were remailed to persons in all 48 states and 26 foreign countries.

The postmark is changed each year for collectors and those who use the service annually. This year the postmark shows Cupid—in a 10-gallon hat and cowboy chaps—and a cowboy brand in the shape of a heart with an "L" in the center. The Colorado mountains are in the background.

UNIVERSITY MUST RAISE OTHER $1.1 MILLION IN 12 MONTHS

The University of Nebraska has been named recipient of a $1,856,000 grant for use in establishing a $2,642,000 Center for Continuing Education to serve Nebraska and the Great Plains area.

The announcement was made jointly Saturday—the University's 69th birthday—by the W. K. Kellogg Foundation of Battle Creek, Mich., and NU Chancellor Clifford M. Hardin.

An important phase of adult education, the Nebraska Center will be regional in influence, serving 10 Great Plains states. It will include two structures, an adult-conference facility and a youth building. Both will be located on the College of Agriculture campus near 33rd and Holdrege.

The Foundation is committed to provide $1.5 million toward construction and equipment, as well as $350,000 to help finance a part of the Center's program during its pioneer stage of operation.

This commitment is contingent upon the University raising the balance of the necessary construction funds, or $1,142,000, within a 12-month period.

Also At Chicago

In addition to the Nebraska grant, the Foundation also announced Saturday it will establish a similar center at the University of Chicago, "an ideal location to serve national leaders and national organizations."

The Chicago Center will be housed in a $3.5 million building, with the Foundation providing $2.3 million, plus $500,000 for its program.

The combined $4.5 million in grants expands to four the number of such university centers subsidized in part by the Foundation since 1951, with the others located at Michigan State University and the University of Georgia.

In making the announcement, Chancellor Hardin commented: "This is a wonderful opportunity for the University and for Nebraska. It clears the way for the University to extend its educational influence to thousands of people, both youth and adults, who are not enrolled in college."

3 Years' Planning
Announcement of the project, the chancellor said, climaxes about three years of planning and negotiations between University and Kellogg Foundation representatives.

Construction can begin as soon as all financial arrangements are complete. Chancellor Hardin said he is "most hopeful" that the University can guarantee the balance of the construction cost in the near future.

"When the Kellogg people are willing to pledge $1,856,000 to our future," he said, "I am sure Nebraska contributors can be counted upon to make up the balance of the investment."

Dr. Emory W. Morris, president of the Foundation, said in announcing the commitments: "It is apparent that Continuing Education stands merely at the beginning of a period of enormous expansion. The desire and need of adults to learn continue long after the ending of formal education in high school or college."

"And rapid and confusing social change calls more than ever for communication of ideas to all segments of our population. As dynamic alterations occur in our culture, industry, transportation and our whole economy, people need to be restrained for new opportunities made available."

Professional First
"In line with this," Dr. Morris explained, "the Nebraska facility will give first emphasis to updating and refreshing of professional training, and then to the stimulation of vocational training."

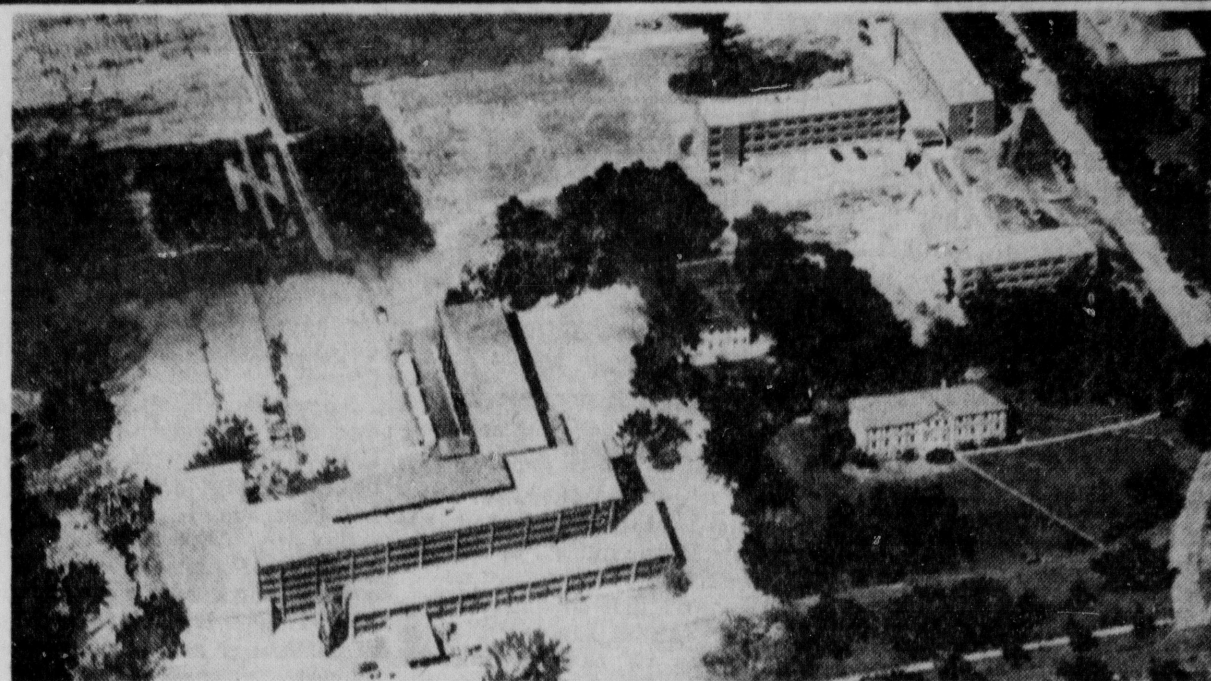

"Conferences, institutes, work shops and seminars will also extend Continuing Education into the areas of homemaking, social and citizenship training, avocations and community living, with special attention to the needs of out-of-school youth."

The Nebraska Center's central structure—about 400 feet long by 80 feet wide—will be a five-story adult-conference facility, having an auditorium seating 700, meeting and lecture rooms, an educational television studio, and hotel and dining accommodations for guests. Estimated cost of the building and

3 French Consulates Blockaded By Tunisia

... Food Supplies Allowed Through To 15,000 Troops

TUNIS (AP)—Tunisia clamped a police blockade on three French consulates Friday but otherwise applied calming measures to prevent a dangerous explosion.

A government spokesman disclosed that food supplies were being allowed to get through to the 15,000 French soldiers barricaded in their bases. This seemed to ease the greatest immediate danger of clashes.

Capitalizing on world reaction to a French air raid last Saturday on the border village of Sakiet Sidi Youssef, President Habib Bourguiba has demanded France withdraw all its troops and give up the big naval base at Bizerte. Tunisians claim 79 men, women and children were killed and many more wounded in Sakiet.

Bourguiba reinforced diplomatic pressure by stationing police guards before three French consulates at Gafsa, Medjez and Le Kef, thus putting the consular officials under the same restrictions as the French military.

Confined

He had asked the French to close the consulates at the same time he ordered the French troops confined to posts and barred French flights over Tunisian territory. But the French refused to close the consulates on the group that the accord for their presence in Tunisia has not been formally ended.

While Bourguiba urged his people Friday to keep calm, French Premier Felix Gaillard, still suffering from flu and running a fever, summoned U.S. Ambassador Amory Houghton to his home in Paris for a talk on the situation. Paris dispatches said they may

2 Cited For Air Rescue Operations

Byron J. Appleby of Alliance and Donald G. Higgins of Ainsworth have been awarded merit plaques "for meritorious air rescue operations resulting in the saving of human life."

The plaques were presented during the annual joint dinner of the

Appleby

Nebraska Aerial Applicators and the National Aviation Trades Association in Lincoln.

Appleby was cited for his air rescue mission July 21, 1957 near Alliance. His rescue team of Sandhills pilots located the crashed plane of Milo German and flew the sole survivor to Alliance for hospital care.

Higgins was recognized for carrying out a similar rescue operation on the night of Dec. 26, 1957, northeast of Ainsworth.

Assisted by friends, Higgins searched out the downed aircraft of Airman Edward T. Nickson and rescued Nickson, his wife and two small children.

have discussed a U.S. mediation effort.

Both France and Tunisia are preparing to present their case to the U.N. Security Council next week. Tunisia accuses France of aggression. French sources at the U.N. said France is readying a complaint that Tunisia shelters Algerian rebels.

Gaillard has defended the bombing attack as an act of defense against rebels based in Tunisia.

4 Men Trapped By Fire

NEW YORK (AP)—At least two firemen were fatally injured Friday night in the roaring collapse of a five-story loft building that trapped four others.

The two were dug out by frantically working fellow firemen. Both at first were believed to be alive. Closer examination proved one to be dead, however, and the other died before reaching a hospital.

The missing four were members of the New York Board of Fire Underwriters who were trapped with the two firemen when a floor collapsed in a mass of burning wreckage and shattered bricks.

"We have not given up hope," said Fire Commissioner Edward F. Cavanagh Jr. "A hundred men will work at the scene around the clock, until we free or find the missing men."

'Screams'

Cavanagh said he heard "screams and shouts" from inside the building just after the collapse of the two upper stories of the building. The weight of ice quickly formed by hose water in the bitter cold hastened the crumbling of the flame-weakened structure.

But after hearing their voices for a brief time after the collapse, there was only silence from inside the rubble.

The missing men were identified as Michael Tracy, of Woodhaven, Queens; Michael McGee, of Brooklyn; Louis Brusotti, of Brooklyn; and James Devine, of Brooklyn.

More than 60 pieces of equipment, including an extra rescue company from Brooklyn, rushed to the five-alarm blaze in the 10 ft building, which was occupied by paper and twine companies. The building is between Prince and Houston Streets on lower Manhattan.

WEATHER SAME OLD SAD STORY

The chance of a few snow flurries in extreme western Nebraska Saturday and Saturday night is the only precipitation in sight for the state, the Weather Bureau said.

Chilly high temperatures of 12-18 in the north and east and 18-25 in the southwest are in sight, the Bureau said, as colder air moves into eastern Nebraska Saturday.

Scattered light snow, fog and gusting winds featured the weather picture in Nebraska Friday, as up to four inches of snow continued to blanket the state.

Light snow in Lincoln Friday brought the two-day precipitation total for the city to some .21 inch.

Highways remained generally snow-packed and dangerous, the Safety Patrol cautioned, especially in the Lincoln, Omaha and Norfolk areas.

The long-range forecast calls for temperatures to continue 3 to 5 degrees below normal in western Nebraska and 6 to 8 degrees below normal in the east through the middle of next week. Normal lows are 17-18; highs, 40-45.

MAN, 73, THOUGHT UNHURT, FIRST CITY '58 TRAFFIC DEATH

... George Laub Victim—Late Report

A belated report of Lincoln's first traffic fatality of 1958 was received by the Police Department Friday.

Police listed the victim as George H. Laub, 73, of 2603 N. 49th.

He reportedly died of internal injuries Feb. 7 after he was injured in a two-car accident at 50th and Baldwin.

Police said Mr. Laub, a passenger in a car driven by his wife, Mary, 68, did not appear to be injured after the accident, which occurred at 4:15 p.m. The accident report was listed as only a property damage mishap at the time.

Mr. Laub was admitted to the hospital Feb. 5, underwent an operation Feb. 6 and died about 12:30 a.m. Feb. 7, police reported.

The police accident report states that Mrs. Laub was driving east on Baldwin and that her car was in collision with one driven by Mike W. Grachev, 18, of 321 N. 16th, who was southbound on 50th. Mrs. Laub reported her speed at the time of the impact at about 10 m.p.h., the report shows, and Grachev said he was traveling about 25 m.p.h.

No arrests were made as a result of the right-angle accident.

Lincoln's last traffic death occurred Dec. 27, 1957, when 10-year-old Linda Dunlap of Omaha was fatally injured when she was in collision with a car as she attempted to cross Cornhusker Highway between 11th and 12th. She was visiting in Lincoln at the time.

Mr. Laub's death brings the state traffic total to 27, compared with 22 at this time a year ago.

Mitchell Man Dies In Crash

MITCHELL, Neb. — Thirty-year-old John W. Meeker of Mitchell lost his life Friday when his auto collided with a truck at a county road intersection one and a half miles east of Mitchell.

Safety Patrol officers identified the driver of the truck as Raymond Strey, 44, also of Mitchell.

OGALLALA BIDS FOR CUSHMAN RELOCATION

Ogallala was added to the list of cities which have invited the Cushman Motors Works to move from Lincoln if its rezoning application is turned down by the Lincoln City Council.

The company received an offer Friday from C. C. Worden, president of the Ogallala Civic Improvement Assn., inviting the firm to consider relocating on a 22-acre tract available there.

Five other cities have already invited Cushman to relocate after the Lincoln City Planning Commission recommended denial of its rezoning request.

Costello Misses His Cue In Court

VAN NUYS, Calif. (AP)—A municipal judge Friday tried to revive a famous Abbott and Costello routine but Lou Costello didn't take the cue.

Costello, of nearby Canoga Park, was in court for violation of the leash law. His black French poodle had been picked up for running loose.

The pudgy comic pleaded guilty and paid a $10 fine.

As he left the courtroom, Judge Julian Beck quipped: "Who's on first?"

Costello answered: "The dog. I'm giving him away."

'I'm Tired Of Blame'—Starkweather's Father

BY NANCY BENJAMIN

Star Staff Writer

"I'm tired of taking the blame for this. What could I have done?"

Guy Starkweather, father of the admitted mass murderer Charles Starkweather, is asking the same question that many Lincolinites have asked themselves.

When Charles quit school at the end of ninth grade, his father had little to say about it. "I wanted Charles to get the schooling I never got," he relates.

"A boy of 16 or 17 has a mind of his own," his father explains. "He was old enough to start making his own decisions."

He Did Make Decision

Charles did make his own decision. He quit school. He started to work full time. He took the step which is considered one of the most important in a teenager's life—the step from "in school" to "on your own."

If Charles had known about the school co-ordinator of special employment or if that hard-working woman had known about Charles, things might have taken a different turn for the youth at that time.

Her job is to aid in softening the shock of the break with school for youngsters still in their mid-teens.

With the aid of a part-time secretary, and job offers from a few (but not enough) Lincoln businessmen, the Lincoln Public Schools co-ordinator of special employment places an average of 60 teenagers in half-time supervised employment, and half-time school work.

Tells Them Straight

She "tells them straight" that they are lucky because there are probably 100 other 16, 15 and 14-year-olds out on their own looking for jobs which are less desirable and harder to find.

She warns them of the rules: neatness, promptness, best work possible at school and job, no "goofing off", no pals dropping in or calling up, and no quitting without telling her first. And she also lends a sympathetic ear, gains the co-operation and understanding of their parents, and, in general, guides without pushing.

Could this school employment counselor have helped Charles? She has helped many teenagers to lose their feelings of insecurity and unimportance. But not all of them responded.

Need More

Psychologists, social workers, educators all agree that Charles needed more than a job, even under special counseling. He needed treatment for his now longstanding maladjustment.

Besides, Charles had a job. And he didn't want to go to school, even half-time.

Mrs. Starkweather found Charles his job for a local distributing firm by asking around and telephoning when she heard about an opening. Charles started to work before he finished ninth grade. He worked after school and sometimes on weekends.

When a school term ended in

Nation's Industrial Production Skids

January's Was Lowest In 3 Years

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Federal Reserve Board reported Friday that industrial production, continuing a five-month decline, dropped in January to the lowest level in three years.

Slowdowns in the automotive industry and in the output of other durable goods contributed most to the decline, the board said.

Its industrial production index fell off three points last month to 133 per cent of the 1947-49 average. This was the lowest since February, 1955.

At 133, the index was 9 per cent below January, 1957.

Stood at 145 in August

It stood at 145 last August, but dropped one point in September and has been declining ever since.

The board said steel mill operations, sharply curtailed in December, fell off more in January.

The aircraft industry's output, however, held steady.

Mineral output remained unchanged, but activity in the textile and petroleum industries was curtailed. A decline in the production of nondurable goods continued in January.

Sen. Aiken (R-Vt.) and Rep. Cooley (D-NC) called on President Eisenhower Friday to pay more attention to agriculture in his anti-recession program.

Cooley, chairman of the House agriculture committee, complained that Eisenhower has ignored agriculture so far.

Says Poorly Advised

"I do not believe the advisers to the President have fulfilled their responsibility to impress upon him the importance of the well being of agriculture to the prosperity of our total economy," Cooley said.

"I do not believe the President is aware that national depressions are farm fed and farm led."

Mrs. Strader, who died Feb. 1, was the wife of the late Charles Strader, one of the founders of the old Camp Strader near Crete.

The will directed that the balance of her estate be divided among her children, Dr. Rex M. Strader of Lincoln, Paul Strader of Beaumont, Tex., and Mrs. Blanche S. Walling, of Houston, Tex.

Solons Told: Conservation Needs Help From State

By BETTY PERSON
Star Staff Writer

Nebraska will progress in the field of water and soil conservation "just as fast as the state participates", Bill Richards, vice chairman of the State Soil and Water Conservation Committee, said Friday.

He made the statement at a meeting of the Legislative Study Committee on Ground Water of which Sen. Don Thompson of McCook is chairman.

"How we've ever gotten as much done as we have with as little as the state has contributed is a marvel to me," Richards declared.

Suggests Study

He suggested to the legislative committee that it might investigate the possibility of enabling soil conservation districts to have the right of taxation and right of eminent domain.

He cited instances of watershed projects that have been held up because the district planning the project does not have eminent domain powers and cannot get easements on property to build reservoirs.

"If we don't take care of our water and soil resources," Richards continued, "I don't see how we're going to maintain the kind of state we want."

Will Cut Stream Flow

Dr. E. C. Reed, state geologist, told the committee that if Nebraska continues to increase the use of ground water in irrigation, "we obviously and definitely will reduce our stream flows."

He added that the degree to which this would occur was "hard to predict," but said a reduction in stream flows would affect fish, sewage disposal, industrial and municipal uses of water as well as agriculture.

Dan Jones, director of the Department of Water Resources, suggested that the committee give thought to legislation requiring municipalities and industries to register their wells.

Sen. Thompson said he thought it would be helpful to have a record of such wells. The McCook senator sponsored legislation during the past session which required registration of irrigation wells.

H. G. Bobst of the federal Soil Conservation Service, said the construction phase of watersheds in Nebraska was "slowly grinding to a halt" because local conservation districts are not able to handle the contractual work.

The committee scheduled its next meeting at Grand Island March 20 where a public hearing will be held.

Committee members present included: Sens. Hans Jensen of Aurora, Frank Nelson of O'Neill, Arnold Ruhnke of Plymouth, Harold Stryker of Rising City.

City Motor Vehicle Levy Law Readied ... To Council Monday

An ordinance for a city motor vehicle levy to help finance Lincoln's proposed $15,501,820 major street improvement program over the next 10 years will be introduced Monday before the City Council.

Mayor Bennett Martin said Friday that the proposed levy has been discussed with various interested groups and no opposition has been voiced.

City Atty. Ralph Nelson and City Co-ordinator James Mallon are to explain the mechanics of the street improvement levy to the Council at its Monday meeting, Martin explained.

He said the proposed levy, effective April 1, would be collected on a direct billing system and the city would not use the "sticker system" used by some cities.

$5 Levy

Martin said a $5 levy is proposed for passenger cars, as originally discussed, but declined to disclose the sliding scale on other types of vehicles, including trucks, until the proposed ordinance can be outlined to the Council.

The levy is needed to raise $260,365 a year or $2,603,650 for the 10-year period of the improvement program, Martin said.

Other financing for the $15.5 million street program is estimated as $8,383,175 from federal aid, $65,000 from special benefit assessment, and $4,250,000 in state gas tax funds over the next 10 years.

Architects Favor Broadening Of Tax Base In Nebraska

Some 170 corporate and associate members of the Nebraska Architects Assn., voted overwhelmingly in favor of broadening the state tax base, Selmer A. Solheim of Lincoln, secretary of the Association, announced.

Solheim said that 94 per cent of the replies were in favor of a broader tax base, while only 6 per cent were against the plan.

Fifty-four per cent favored a sales tax and 24 per cent voted in favor of a state income tax. Eight per cent wanted a combination sales and income tax, and another 8 per cent advocated some other form.

Solheim gave two reasons for the response in favor of a broader tax base. "Most of our members are property owners themselves," he said, "and most of their clients deal in real property."

STARKWEATHER'S DAD 'TIRED OF BLAME'

June, Charles went to work on a full-time basis, serving as a roustabout, moving boxes and bundles, loading trucks. He held the job almost two years, starting at 75c an hour on a part-time basis, and earning $1.25 an hour when he quit.

Never A Problem

Charles was never a problem, his father relates. He was never a special troublemaker at home with two older brothers to keep him in line, and a younger sister and two younger brothers to help out with.

"I've tried to figure it out every way. What did we do? Mistreat him? No. We were always pretty close. I'd give him extra spending money when he needed it, and he helped us out at home."

"I wish he had come to us when things went wrong but he didn't. Parents now who interfere are called 'squares,' and the kids, teenagers mostly, seem to run their parents nowadays."

Guy Starkweather remembers that Charles would even do housework, but like most teenagers "he sort of had to be forced."

Not Too Interested

Charles wasn't too interested in general repair work, his father's occupation. "He used to come along and help out, and liked working with cement, but never stayed with it," Guy Starkweather relates.

He liked hunting, and was a good shot. He liked cars, fixing them up and tinkering with them. The neighbors sometimes complained because of all the parts and old cars in the back yard of the Starkweather home.

"But there was something he'd work at for hours, and spend all his extra cash on," Mr. Starkweather said.

Once or twice, Mr. Starkweather said, Charles got interested in working around service stations. "He'd hang around and help out and even got to waiting on customers, but sooner or later they'd run him off because he was too young."

Visited Employment

Charles once tried to find a job by visiting the Lincoln office of the State Employment Service. He filled out the regular application form with the help of an interviewer.

He met with little success. His age, his lack of job experience, his general appearance, all worked against him. To a trained interviewer he was easily identified as the hardest type of applicant to place.

If Charles had returned to the employment office, which he did not, about all they could have offered him was "spot" jobs, work assigned each morning to men who appear at the office. The jobs usually last a day or so.

When Charles quit his job at the distributing company, he told his boss he was "getting a job that paid more." It also started at 6 a.m. in the morning and ended earlier in the afternoon. Charles had met Carl Fugate and wanted the after-school hours free to see her.

Resented 'Extras'

He started work as a garbage collector, a job his brother found for him. He wasn't too interested in doing a good job, and resented the "extras" along with the route which kept him at work after 3 p.m.

Guy Starkweather became worried about his son, and although

Bd. Charges 10 Nebraska Liquor Firms

Five Scottsbluff and five Omaha wholesale beer and liquor firms have been cited on charges of sale to Jack and Dorine Green of Bushnell, who, the State Liquor Commission said, do not possess a liquor license.

The five Scottsbluff firms cited for hearing are Triple Beverage Co., Panhandle Distributing Co., Hammus Beverage Co., Inc., Scottsbluff Distributing Co., and Harry E. Bingham. They will be heard Feb. 27.

The Omaha firms are McKesson and Robbins, Inc.; Capital Liquors, Inc.; Sterling Distributing Co.; Ed Phillips and Sons Co., and Paxton and Gallagher doing business as Western Wine and Liquor Co. They will be heard Feb. 26.

Wasn't A Bad Kid

"He wasn't a bad kid. He tried to do the right things," his father said. "If he had only come to us with his problems."

Child psychologists realize that the gap between parents and child grows wider with every year. By the time a youth reaches adolescence he starts living in a world outside his home. Sometimes a casual observer has more insight into a youth's behavior than his parents do. And the difference between what his parents think he is doing away from home, and what he really does, is amazing. This seems as true of wise parents as of foolish ones, as true for delinquent and nondelinquent teenagers alike.

The Starkweathers did not know Charles was "hanging around" a Lincoln pool hall. They did not know of his reputation as a "dare devil" at the Capital Beach auto track where he sometimes drove in "demolition derbies."

They were unaware that he sometimes slept in his car because he had been locked out of his room in a downtown apartment house.

Talked Casually Of Murder

To his parents, Charles talked casually at the breakfast table about the murder of Robert Colvert, 21-year-old Crest service station attendant. He told them he "wondered" what kind of a guy could have done that and said he thought he'd seen "that guy (Colvert) around town somewhere."

His parents visit Charles at the State Penitentiary now. They talk about what he has done, and ask him what they can do for him. "I still don't understand," Charles' father admits. "If he had been a problem to us, like some folks say he was, it would have been different. But what could we do?"

Motion To Put Caril Fugate's Case In Juvenile Court Seen

By DEL HARDING
Star Staff Writer

A motion is expected to be filed in Lancaster County Court next week asking that the murder case of 14-year-old Caril Fugate be transferred to Juvenile Court.

If the move succeeds, the maximum penalty which could be imposed upon Caril — charged in County Court with first degree murder—would be confinement in a state institution until she reaches her 21st birthday.

If she were to be bound over to District Court and tried there for first degree murder, she could receive the death penalty upon conviction and recommendation of the jury.

Innocent Pleas

Caril and her 19-year-old boy friend, confessed mass murderer Charles Starkweather, have both pleaded innocent in County Court to two murder charges filed against them both in connection with the death of Robert Jensen of Bennett, one of the 11 victims in Starkweather's recent murder spree.

In another development in the case, Lancaster District Judge Harry A. Spencer is expected to approve a request Saturday that the District Court appoint an attorney to represent Caril in the County Court proceedings. Legal Aid Bureau Director Edmund O. Belsheim filed a request for the action Friday.

The Aid Bureau has tried unsuccessfully to secure Caril an attorney, at the request of her father. The County Court does not have the power under the state statutes to appoint an attorney for defendants.

Without Precedent

If Judge Spencer does appoint an attorney to represent Caril in County Court, it is believed that such an action is without precedent in Nebraska.

Caril's application filed in District Court requesting the move stated that "it is necessary that immediate steps be taken to effect the transfer of the (her) case to said Juvenile Court for the proceedings therein and that such other steps be taken as will protect the rights of the applicant relative to the said (murder) complaint."

The application contended that "County Court has no jurisdiction to inquire into said (murder) complaint; its sole jurisdiction is to transfer the case to the Juvenile Court . . ." The application also stated that Caril is "without funds to represent her in these matters."

No Clear-Cut Decision

If County Court Judge Herbert A. Ronin should refuse to transfer Caril's case to Juvenile Court and she were later to be found guilty in District Court, Judge Ronin's decision would present a solid basis for an appeal to the State Supreme Court.

No clear-cut decision has ever been handed down defining what, if any, age restrictions there are concerning whether a youth should be tried in County Court-District Court or in Juvenile Court.

In most lesser offenses, youths 15 and under are taken into Juvenile Court.

Caril is scheduled for preliminary hearing on the murder charges in County Court March 8, but it appears likely that the date will be moved back until the jurisdictional matter is settled. Starkweather, who also as yet has no attorney, is slated for a preliminary hearing March 1.

Business Up At Peoples Accident Co.

A 27 per cent increase in new business by the Peoples Accident Insurance Company was reported Friday at the annual policyholders meeting.

President John E. Van Vliet also reported a 9.7 per cent increase in surplus, an 11 per cent increase in payments to policyholders, and a two per cent increase in assets.

Van Vliet said that cash, government and municipal securities represented 85 per cent of the assets, and stocks amounted to 9.5 per cent of the assets.

Several new agents have been licensed recently and the outlook for 1958 is very bright, Van Vliet reported. Within the past year, he added the company has issued a new hospital and surgical policy and that, together with the other modern forms of policies issued by the company, adds up a very bright prospect for 1958. The company is doing business in Nebraska, Colorado and Kansas.

A. G. Van Vliet was re-elected a director of the company. Other board members are J. P. Van Vliet, John E. Van Vliet, Joe R. Evans and C. P. Van Vliet. John E. Van Vliet was elected president of the company from his prior office as agency vice president.

Other officers elected were: J. P. Van Vliet, vice president; A. W. Mason, vice president and assistant secretary; C. P. Van Vliet, secretary-treasurer; M. M. Williamson, assistant treasurer; and Little and Patz, general counsel.

NSEA Tax Base Meet Set March 1

March 1 has been set as the date for the Nebraska State Education Association's delegate assembly to reconvene to discuss the Association's stand on a petition campaign for a constitutional amendment to broaden Nebraska's tax base.

This marks the first time in the NSEA's 90-year history that the delegate assembly has been called into such an extraordinary session.

The assembly voted last December that the NSEA should spearhead a petition campaign to amend the constitution to repeal the provision that a sales and-or income tax should be a replacement of the state's property tax.

The NSEA's original proposal also called for enactment of a general sales tax with its revenue to be distributed to all taxing subdivisions of government as a tax credit.

The NSEA proposal met with strong opposition and resulted in an effort to form united support behind a compromise proposal for broadening the tax base known as the Nebraska Tax Equity Council.

Dodge Corporation, construction news and marketing specialists, reported. Contracts by the major construction in December were all up substantially compared to the like 1956 month; non-residential at $1,705,000, residential at $4,661,000, and heavy engineering at $6,809,000. Construction contracts in 1957 in Nebraska totalled $227,451,000, which was 16 per cent ahead of the 1956 total.

School Consolidation Lauded In Editorial

An editorial written by Regina Smith of Stapleton High School has been cited by State Education Commissioner Freeman Decker as evidence of the desirable effects of school redistricting.

In her editorial, Miss Smith told how the original rivalry between students of the two schools had been changed to pride in the modern facilities and fine teachers. "We realize the consolidation has made possible a better school for all of us," she said.

Planning Board's Cushman Reports Before Council Monday

By VIRGIL FALLOON
Star Staff Writer

Majority and minority reports on the City Planning Commission's recommended denial of heavy industrial zoning of the proposed Cushman Motor Works industrial site were forwarded Friday to the City Council.

The Commission by 5-3 vote turned down the Cushman request to re-zone a 109-acre tract at 48th and Highway 2 at the southeast edge of Lincoln.

The drafting on an ordinance for the requested zoning change is expected to be requested Monday by Lloyd C. Marti, Cushman attorney.

If its introduction and first and second readings are routinely handled, the ordinance will come up for third reading and public hearing on March 10 before the Council.

More Controversy

The Council hearing March 10 is expected to generate even more interest and controversy than the Commission's hearing.

The minority report concurs with the Commission's report back-grounding the tract's history and summarizing the hearing testimony, but dissents from its findings and recommendation.

Submitted by Chairman E. J. Faulkner, the majority report makes the following findings:

1. The present zoning for residential and public use is appropriate and correct. The land's topography lends itself to residential rather than industrial use.
2. There is no justification for zoning of the isolated tract for heavy industry. If granted, there would be no valid basis for refusing similar industrial zoning for the entire area along Beal's Slough (Highway 2) from 14th to 56th.
3. Industrial use of the tract would de-

Norfolk Man Heads Aviation Trades Association

John Younghein of Norfolk was announced as new president of the Nebraska Aviation Trades Assn., succeeding William Latta of Hastings.

Elections were held in connection with the seventh annual aerial applicators short course at the University of Nebraska College of Agriculture.

Other new officers include B. J. Appleby, Alliance, Vice President, and Paul Seims, Fremont, secretary.

Seven vice presidents also elected were:

preciate rapidly-growing residential areas. While the petitioner's proposed use may present fewer objections than some uses, heavy industrial zoning would preclude any future city control of any industry that might be installed.

4. Industrial use of the tract would vitally and adversely affect the entire natural pattern of the city's growth. The city's estimated population increase by 1950 will require 10,000 more residences. An industrial barrier to the south would "strait-jacket" the city's growth to the east with higher utility costs and further diversion of trade from the downtown area.
5. The proposed zoning would induce north-south traffic in serious conflict with the city's basic east-west movement. Undesirable truck traffic would be generated through residential areas.
6. Lincoln already has adequate land zoned for normal industrial growth with additional sites in prospect. Areas to north, northwest and west are already zoned and more can be provided adjacent to these areas.
7. So vital a change as proposed by the petitioner would defeat the purpose and basis of the zoning plan. While no plan can be inflexible and must grow with the city, capricious and spot changes destroy the stability that is necessary to proper development.

Concurring members were John Selleck, Dean Roy M. Green, Earl Luff, Mrs. J. Edmunds Miller and Chester Dobbs.

The minority report, submitted by members F. Pace Woods, Joe Ginsburg and Kenneth Lewis, asserted these findings:

1. The Cushman Motor Works and its parent company would not have proposed purchase of the tract unless it would develop economically for industrial purposes.
2. There is justification for heavy industry zoning of the tract to be used by Cushman in their method of manufacture.

3. Industrial use of the subject tract would not depreciate residential areas to the north, but would materially aid development of now vacant residential areas.
4. The proposed re-zoning will not hold back the city's growth, but will stimulate the expected growth by 1950 and aid in the prosperity of the city.
5. A new concept in city planning makes it advisable to locate industry outside the city at the four corners of the compass to eliminate cross-traffic.
6. Cushman and its parent company will absorb the majority of this acreage in an attractive rather than disorderly manner and will not materially increase railroad and truck traffic in the city.
7. There is not adequate land zoned for industrial purposes well located for industry in Lincoln and this "was the consensus of opinion of at least two majority members in addition to the minority."
8. The petition zone change will not influence the use of the Beal's Slough area between 20th and 40th because of the flood plain. The railroad, non-access highway and high transmission line will also discourage both "residential and industrial use" of that area.

Wish Comes True As Son's Body Moved To New Grave

An aged mother's wish came true Friday as the body of her son, originally buried in Potter's Field at Wyuka, was moved to a regular grave site.

Late Friday afternoon the mother and a few friends placed a wreath on the grave to which earlier in the day the body had been moved.

The son, a middle-aged indigent, had been buried originally in Potter's Field at county expense after county authorities had refused to pay for the funeral if a regular cemetery lot was to be donated by friends of the dead man.

The friends had taken up a collection to buy the lot after the

41,000 Signatures In For VFW Bingo Drive

More than 41,000 apparently valid bingo petition signatures were on hand Friday at State Veterans of Foreign Wars headquarters, and 1,700 additional petitions were mailed out in what state VFW Adjutant Robert Lowe termed the "first real organized effort" to put the petition campaign over the top.

The total needed before the July 3 filing deadline is 56,794.

"All in all, I would say the outlook appears pretty good," said Lowe.

The VFW and Fraternal Order of Eagles are spearheading the petition campaign, designed to force a vote in November on a constitutional amendment legalizing bingo.

Whereas VFW posts individually have been pursuing the petition effort so far, the petition mailing Friday was along organized lines, Lowe explained.

The VFW has 16 districts in Nebraska, each with its commander. The petitions out Friday went to district commanders with requests that each appoint a county chair-

You, too, will appreciate the superb taste and Kentucky quality of the magnificent bourbon created by William Bond and C. C. Lillard in 1869

William Bond and C. C. Lillard were the kind of men who could spot a limestone spring in the wilderness, who could judge a season's crop by biting a few kernels of corn, who could shrewdly pick out oaks that had the right grain for aging-barrels...men who had a sixth sense for whiskey-making. They made a fine Kentucky bourbon that has stood the test of time—famous Bond and Lillard!

Wives of Lincoln Air Force Base personnel had a busy day on Friday completing arrangements for one of the largest social events ever held at the base, the Valentine's Day dance held Friday evening in the huge south hangar on the base.

The party was sponsored by the Non-Commissioned Officers Academy Association as a benefit for the many welfare activities of the base and all LAFB organizations had a hand in the preparations.

From the left are Mrs. James Myers, Mrs. Edward Bardwell and Mrs. Walter Hudkins, members of the Officers Wives Club, who are completing a tray to hold corsages which the members of the club's ways and means committee sold at the dance. Chairman of the committee was Mrs. F. L. Swihart.

Members of the NCO Wives Club were in charge of the coat room and check stand, and serving as chairman was Mrs. Art T. Mapstead.

TIME IS fugit-ing—and we hope that spring is doing the same—in our direction. But while we're awaiting the first sign of the approaching season we'll busy ourselves with the present and its capacity for news.

THE WEEK-END is filled with a variety of events—valentine parties for the young set—valentine parties for the older groups—and just valentine parties.

And next week-end is to be an active one, also—On Saturday evening, Feb. 22, the members of the Holiday Club will dine and dance in the Georgian Room at Hotel Cornhusker—The party details, so we are told, are in charge of a committee composed of Mr. and Mrs. Emmett Junge, chairman; Mr. and Mrs. Norman Walt, Mr. and Mrs. Elsworth DuTeau and Mr. and Mrs. Harry Carson.

ONE party always seems to be the incentive for another—and the Holiday Club dinner dance is no exception to the rule—Understand that Mr. and Mrs. Elery Hall Davis, presidents of the club, have invited guests to their home for a pre-dinner dance affair.

Entertained Classmates

A Valentine party hostess on Friday evening was Miss Mary Louise Kukuk who entertained a group of eight 5th grade classmates from College View School at a buffet supper at her home. Mary Louise, her brother, Gary, a student at Southeast High School, and their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Zoel Kukuk, recently moved to Lincoln from their former home in Minneapolis, Minn.

AND another notation on the calendar for the evening of Feb. 22, is the buffet dinner for which Mrs. John P. Morrow will be hostess when she entertains a group of guests in celebration of Mr. Morrow's birthday anniversary.

Former Coed Is Bride

MRS. RONALD DEAN MERRY

Invitations were extended to 500 guests for the wedding of Miss Connie Lou Peterson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ervin E. Peterson, and Ronald Dean Merry, son of Mr. and Mrs. Clyde H. Merry, on Friday evening, Feb. 14. The 8 o'clock ceremony was solemnized by the Rev. Melvin J. Tassler at Redeemer Lutheran Church, and the vocal soloist was Julius Humann.

Miss Sally Leacock, as the maid of honor, and the bridesmaids, Miss Carole Martin of Denton, Miss Carolyn Kiess, Miss Nancy Dreith and Miss Lorraine Bullock, appeared in sheath frocks of pearl white chiffon over taffeta fashioned in the after-five length and accented by back bows of draped chiffon. They carried rounded bouquets of white and red carnations. Lighting the candles were Miss Ginny Gessner and Mrs. Ben Gadd, Jr., and Miss Debbie Stranathan was the flower girl.

Serving his brother as best man was Dennis Merry, and seating the guests were Dallas Drda, Ron Kastanek, Bob Atkins, Adrian Wolfe, George Porter and Dick Youngscap. Mark Tassler was the ringbearer.

White nylon tulle and hand-clipped Chantilly lace smoothed over satin were chosen by the bride for her wedding gown. Natural scallops of the lace edged the Sabrina neckline of the long-sleeved bodice of lace, and the lace motif was repeated in appliques on the very full skirt of tulle, which ended in a whisper train. Her illusion veil was held to the head by a queen's coronet of seed pearls, and she carried a pinnacle bouquet of white rosebuds and a Stephanotis centered with a white orchid.

Following the reception in the church parlors, the couple left for a southern wedding trip later to reside at 2765 So. 37th.

The bride, a member of Alpha Omicron Pi, attended the University of Nebraska where Mr. Merry is a student.

HURRIED back to the current day to tell you that Mr. and Mrs. Jack Martin are to have week-end house guests—Mr. and Mrs. Norval Vizzier of Minneapolis arrive today for a Saturday-to-Monday stay, and will attend the Junior League Broken Hearts Ball with Mr. and Mrs. Martin.

SOMEONE told us that Dr. and Mrs. M. C. Wieland are on a holiday. Dr. and Mrs. Wieland have gone to California where, at Coronado, they are visiting their son and daughter-in-law, Dr. and Mrs. Richard Wieland. Mrs. Richard Wieland, as everyone knows, is the former Lynn Holland.

APROPOS of travelers the many Lincoln friends of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Wake of Seward have learned that Mr. and Mrs. Wake are in Mexico where they are dividing their time between Mexico City and Acapulco.

NU Dames Meet For A Coffee

Time out for a little fun was the order of the day when Mrs. Robert Gallawa was hostess Thursday morning to the members of one of the "mothers" groups of the University of Nebraska Dames.

An organization for students' wives, the Dames hold monthly meetings the third Thursday evening of each month, and also divide their membership into small interest groups and mothers groups, which meet for cards, cake-decorating, music, needlework, swimming and even ice skating.

and Steven; Mrs. Donald Lovgren, Douglas and Scott; Mrs. William F. Swindler and Billy; Mrs. Clarence DeYoung and Michael; Mrs. Dean Rowe and Ricky; Mrs. Walter Douthit and Matthew; and (standing) Mrs. Robert Gallawa. Mrs. Swindler, whose husband is a faculty member, is a sponsor for the group.

Any student's wife who is interested in joining the Dames is asked to call 8-2373 for information and transportation.

DEAR ABBY: Everyone knows that 99 out of 100 women marry because they do not want to go to work and support themselves. I see nothing wrong with this philosophy, neither do I see anything wrong with the reverse. I am a very desirable young gentleman with the finest of breeding but I do not care for common labor and there are no positions open at present for men of my qualifications. I dance well, can converse intelligently on religion, world politics and the arts. Frankly, Madame, I am for sale. JEROME

SUBURBIA

Residents out Park Manor way are devoting some time to the snow shovel again this week, but then a little more snow isn't going to offer any interference in the social life of our suburban neighbors, and our news notes this morning offer abundant proof of this fact.

Two families on our welcome to Park Manor list this morning. Mr. and Mrs. Casey Heckman, who have been residents of Lincoln for the past two years moved into their new suburban home the first of February. New address for the couple is 6749 So. Burnuda Dr.

Moving to Lincoln from Glen Allen, Alaska last October were Mr. and Mrs. David Hall and their two children, Donald and Jenny. Early this month Mr. and Mrs. Hall settled in their Park Manor home at 6710 South.

While Mr. Hall is originally from Waterloo, Ia., Mrs. Hall attended high school in Lincoln and Nebraska Wesleyan University.

Both the Heckmans and the Halls had the opportunity of meeting some of their neighbors on Friday evening when Mr. and Mrs. Dale Edwards entertained at an informal party at their home. Other guests invited for the affair included Lt. Cmdr. and Mrs. L. S. Kalousek, Mr. and Mrs. Leon Israel, Mr. and Mrs. Warren Schmaki, Capt. and Mrs. A. D. Violette and Lt. and Mrs. Peter Hershey.

Turning to news of farewell courtesies we learn that Mrs. Stephen Briggs who with her family is soon to be moving to Columbus, Ohio, was honored at a party given by Mrs. H. Douglas Hall on Thursday. A small group of friends were invited for the afternoon coffee which was held at the Hall home.

The Azalea Tea given by the alumnae of Gamma Phi Beta sorority and held at the home of Mrs. William Avo Fraser was an event of Friday, and a number of Park Manor residents attended the affair as guests of Mrs. Owen Beach. Included among the suburbanites attending were Mrs. Joseph Allen, Mrs. Rowley Gillingham, Mrs. Kenneth Delp, Mrs. John DeMarr and Mrs. Richard Duxbury.

This evening Mr. and Mrs. M. L. Hotvedt will be host and hostess to the members of their dinner club at an informal party at their home. Other couples who will be in attendance as members of the club are Mr. and Mrs. William Ryan, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Greenwald and Mr. and Mrs. Earl Ballentine.

Non-Stock Milk Co-Ops Merger Okayed

Last Approval Necessary To Join Groups

GRAND ISLAND, Neb. (AP)—Members of the Central Nebraska Non-Stock Co-Operative Milk Assn. approved by a 97-7 vote Friday merger with the larger Nebraska-Iowa Non-Stock Co-Operative.

Directors of Central Nebraska already had approved the merger and the membership of the Nebraska-Iowa group had given approval, so Friday's action was the last approval needed to join the two groups.

Clyde Baldwin, Central Nebraska's manager here, said the paper work will be completed by about April 1. He said it would give the co-operative the advantage of being able to sell more bottled milk by utilizing the combined outlets of the two organizations, whereas now a considerable portion of milk has to be sold in class 2 for processing into milk products.

Aid To Bargaining

Central Nebraska operates in 24 Nebraska counties and three northcentral Kansas counties. Nebraska-Iowa operates in 29 eastern Nebraska counties and seven counties in Western Iowa.

Willard Grant, manager of Nebraska-Iowa, said earlier the merger would place both co-ops in a better position to bargain with processing plants, would afford more flexibility in movement of products and eliminate duplication in administration.

He said it is hoped that the merger would result in combination of the two federal milk marketing areas and enable the combined co-ops to bargain with the department of agriculture for higher minimum prices on bulk milk. Although the bulk price is about the same in both areas, they now operate under separate marketing orders.

"It's the same trend industry is taking," Grant said, adding that the merger would bring a better hold on the supply of milk to main processing plants and result in a longer range program bringing about better prices for producers.

More Snow Seen For Central Plains

Precipitation is due Saturday in an area from the Great Lakes southward through Tennessee and North Carolina with rain on the southern edges of this area. Rain also is forecast in Florida and the Pacific coast states. It will be snowing in the western part of the north and central Plains states and a few areas of the western mountains. (AP Wirephoto Map)

Ashton Farmer Holds First Great Plains Soil Contract

A Sherman County farmer, Stanley Maiefski, holds the first signed and approved contract for participating in the Great Plains conservation program in Nebraska.

Maiefski owns and operates a 195 acre farm near Ashton.

Officials of the state Soil Conservation Service said the contract guarantees Maiefski approximately $1,750 in cost-sharing payments from the government for carrying out specific practices on his farm during a six year period beginning Jan. 1, 1958.

The Great Plains conservation program is designed to help stabilize agriculture by paying farmers to undertake long-range soil and water conservation practices, minimizing the effects of drought and other climatic hazards.

Science Need In Church Colleges Told

OMAHA (AP)—Church colleges have a stake in upsurge of interest in science, a National Council of Churches leader said Friday.

"There is a need for science and any college education has to include it," said Dr. Gerald E. Knoff, executive secretary of the National Council's Division of Christian Education.

"We may use a rocket to blow up our fellow human beings in Moscow or we can use it to gain a better understanding of the weather or to learn about cosmic rays," he said.

Technology is only a way to get a thing done. The question remains: What do we want to do? "It is the Christian college task to help us determine the ends for which we live"—and how the rocket will be used—he said.

The annual meeting of the division of Christian education, concluded here, was somewhat shaken by the prediction from Dr. Asa S. Knowles, president of the University of Toledo (Ohio), that in the next 15 years, 75 per cent of all college students will be attending tax supported institutions.

Less than 50 per cent do now. Dr. Knoff said a lot of money and effort is being put into keeping Christian colleges from losing ground.

He reported that during the meeting the division re-grouped for its experimental television program going on for about three years.

Experimental TV shows, from which it is hoped to find a format for a national network show, he said, have been produced in Nashville, Tenn.; Chicago; Hartford; Wilmington, Del.; Lincoln, Neb.; San Francisco, and New Haven, Conn.

$200,000 In Bonds Missing

... From Carleton Bank

CARLETON, Neb. (AP)—Burglars who smashed their way into the Citizens State Bank last week obtained at least $1,800 in cash and more than $200,000 in bonds from some 125 safety deposit boxes.

Bank officials emphasized that the loss figures are not final, as attempts to determine the loot taken from the deposit boxes are still in progress.

It was believed that the missing bonds are not easily negotiable.

Mrs. Lela B. Heisey, bank president, said apparently none of the bank's funds are missing. No attempt was made to open a cash safe containing $6,000 inside the bank vault.

Milers' Duel Features NU-OU Meet

...Full House Expected Today As Sophomore-Laden Big Eight Teams Meet

By DON BRYANT
Sports Editor, The Star

One fellow termed the event "a track promoter's dream," and that's just about the best way of describing the dual meet between Nebraska and Oklahoma, slated for 2 p.m., at the East Stadium Saturday.

Today's indoor track clash between two Big Eight Conference powers stacks up as one of the best programs offered in these parts for quite a while. Several records are in immediate jeopardy.

More than 1,500 fans—a full house—are expected to sit in on the proceedings, final tuneup for the Huskers before the conference meet at Kansas City.

Nebraska will be seeking its seventh consecutive dual victory and second straight undefeated season under Coach Frank Sevigne. Keith Gardner, the Jamaica Jet, will shoot for a slam of the hurdles and the 60-yard dash to remain undefeated at home during his Cornhusker career.

Both chores loom as difficult tasks. The Sooners have a fine team composed of top-flight soph and tested veterans.

Oklahoma outscored NU, unofficially, at the Michigan State Relays last week, although the Huskers grabbed three relay titles.

Top event on the card today will be the mile run and the 4:21 record is expected to be lowered considerably. Husker Joe Mullins from Nova Scotia and Sooner Gail Hodgson from South Africa are both sophomore distance sensations. Mullins recorded a 4:17.5 in a fouled-up triangular race two weeks ago, while Hodgson turned in a 4:13.2 as anchor man in the MSR distance medley last week.

Hodgson nipped Mullins in the open mile at the Kansas Relays a year ago and a grudge battle is on tap today.

The half-mile could pit these same two standouts in a record-breaking showdown also. Mullins had a 1:52.8 in the Michigan State Relays, while Hodgson posted a 1:51.9. Both of these times (even considering them as relay marks) are far below the OU-NU meet standard of 1:57.2, set last year by Husker Knolly Barnes who will also be in the chase today.

Another sensational battle will be fought in the 60-yard dash where Gardner, Don Phillips and Tom Hodson of Nebraska will match steps with Sooner Dee Givens who won the MSR 75-yard sprint in :07.5.

Givens may be Gardner's toughest foe here in two years and the Sooner is a solid threat to snap the Jet's lengthy string.

Other records under fire include the two mile, the mile relay and the shot put.

Sooner putter George Church has consistently bettered the record of 52-10.4. He won the event last year when the Huskers easily whipped OU.

Both mile relay teams have skipped under the record of 3:25.1.

Southeast Rally Overcomes Pius X Lead For 56-52 Win

Lincoln Southeast overcame a four-point Pius X High advantage in the final quarter to win a 56-52 cage thriller at the Knight gym Friday.

It was a hard fought, well played contest that wasn't decided until the final minute and forty seconds.

In that space of time Southeast hit seven free tosses while Pius collected a pair of baskets. The count was 49-48, Southeast, when the Knights' unseeing free throw ability began.

By the time Dick Schmoker concluded the spree with a half minute to play, Southeast owned a 56-50 lead. Joe McWilliams' final basket for Pius X concluded scoring.

Tied 26 all at the half, the game was nip and tuck until Pius got its first lead, 32-31 on a field goal by Don Thompson with 4:47 to play.

Then the Thunderbolts went on a point parade that ran the advantage to 41-32 with two minutes to play in the quarter. It was the biggest advantage Pius posted and matched the 17-8 spread Southeast held at the end of the opening quarter.

Five Knight points in the last 80 seconds of the third quarter made it 41-37 Pius as the last period started.

Roger Hesson, leading scorer for the game, earned a 45-45 tie for the Knights with the final frame almost half gone. Then a pair of free throws by Schmoker gave Southeast a 47-45 advantage.

Thompson altered that by hitting a set shot and bringing the final tie of the night, 47-47.

A Don Houser free toss with 2:46 to play put Pius in front for the final time, 48-47.

Schmoker again clicked at the charity line, hitting a pair and setting the stage for the seven more successful free toss casts that SE was to hit in the remaining time.

The Knights hit 19 of 22 free throws for the evening and had 13 of 14 in the last quarter.

Pius owned a decided field goal advantage, 23 to 18, but hit only 6 of 13 free throws.

Southeast led the bulk of the game, whipping out to a 17-8 first-quarter lead and keeping com-ably in front until midway in the second quarter.

Then Dave Higgins of Pius clicked on three field goals and, with help from Joe McWilliams and Thompson, pulled Pius to within two points at 24-22. Hesson made it 26-22 on a neat set shot, but Thompson's basket and a pair of Higgins free tosses in the last seconds tied the game at intermission, 26-26.

It was tied again at 30 each in the third quarter, before the torrid Pius scoring streak that gave them the lead for the first time with 4:47 left.

Hesson scored 21 points on 8 baskets and 5 free throws to set the scoring pace. His field goal total was matched by McWilliams, who led Pius with 16. Schmoker had 15 for Southeast and Higgins 14 for Pius.

Higgins got 12 of his 14 in the first half, before sitting out much of the third quarter with four fouls.

He and Houser paced the rebounding. Schmoker was the most effective Knight in that department.

NE's Wall Hits 20 Points To Pass 200

By AL BEEBE
Star Sports Staff Writer

Lincoln Northeast made it an even dozen Friday night, copping victory No. 12 without defeat with a 63-50 thumping of Beatrice in a Mid-East Conference game.

The Rockets parlayed a hot first quarter and another hot streak when Beatrice threatened at the start of the second half to maintain their position as the state's No. 1 Class AA team and the only unbeaten big school in Nebraska.

Northeast should have no trouble, unless from bad luck, in getting No. 13 at Fremont tonight.

Jan Wall, NE's all-star, hit for 10 points in each half to boost his scoring total over the 200 mark this season, reaching 208. The balanced Rocket attack saw Gene Smith chip in 12, Jim Munford 10, and Pich Smith and Roger Bailey eight apiece.

Gene Smith hit a push shot immediately after the opening tip-off to send the Rockets off and running. With Wall scoring eight points in the period, NE took a 17-4 quarter margin over the cold Orangetown.

Buckets by Munford and Wall gave Northeast a 16-point edge at 23-7 midway in the second period, but then the Rockets turned cold and Beatrice picked up. Rich Smith drew is fourth foul with 2:35 left in the half and took a breather with NE leading, 28-13. That signaled the start of a Beatrice rally.

The Orangetown, paced by eight markers by Bob Hohn, a promising sophomore, pulled to a seven-point deficit at 28-21 before Warren Woods hit a 35-foot shot at the buzzer to make it 30-21, Northeast, at the intermission.

Wall and Munford hit baskets, and Bailey added a free throw early in the third period, but two baskets by Dean Madison of Beatrice nearly matched the points. Then NE put it out of danger.

Leading 35-24, Munford tossed in two quick lay-ups, Gene Smith added two more fielders, and Wall two free tosses before Beatrice scored again. At that point, 6-7 Bob Buettgenbach, Beatrice's only tall man, fouled out after scoring eight points, leaving the Orangetown short in every department.

Beatrice stayed in the game via free throws, hitting 22 of 32 tries as the whistle was blown on Northeast 21 times. The Rockets were 13-28 at the free stripe from 20 Beatrice fouls.

Hohn led Beatrice with 14 points, while Mike White hit 11, ten in the fourth period.

State Bus Rate Hike Sought

The State Railway Commission Friday took under advisement an express rate increase sought by 14 bus lines operating in Nebraska.

The requested increases, affecting the transportation of goods, average 60 per cent for an average bus shipment of 26.4 pounds over an average distance of 84 and a half miles.

The cost of shipping what the bus line operators termed the above average shipment would be boosted from 80 cents to $1.30.

P. J. Campbell, Chicago chairman of the National Bus Traffic Assn., filed the express rate increase application on behalf of the lines.

R. W. Mayfield, Lincoln secretary-treasurer of the American Bus Lines, said a six per cent passenger fair increase granted

June 1 does not afford sufficient revenue to meet rising costs.

Mayfield, whose firm has been operating under the control of the U.S. District Court in Lincoln since 1954 bankruptcy proceedings, said American showed a net income of $1,012 last year. If the proposed rate increases had been in effect, the net income would have been $13,309, he estimated.

Witnesses appearing against the proposed increase included: W. G. Peterson, Omaha traffic manager of Sides Co.; C. J. Burrill of the Omaha Chamber of Commerce transportation dept.; R. J. Harrison, Omaha representing distributors of the Iowa-Nebraska Electrical Council, and Ray Prophater of Brandeis Store in Omaha.

The land was the homestead of Claude O. and Edith D. Drake and was owned by Mr. Drake. On his death, his widow came into an undivided one-half interest and the other undivided one-half interest descended to heirs of Mr. Drake subject to the life estate.

Sunday Proclaimed As Lithuanian Day Throughout State

Gov. Victor Anderson Friday proclaimed the fortieth anniversary of Lithuania's declaration of independence, Sunday, as Lithuanian Day in Nebraska.

The governor said he issued the proclamation in recognition of the contributions made by Lithuanians to this country and the signing of the Lithuanian declaration of independence at the Council of Vilnius Feb. 16, 1918.

Lithuania, along with her sister republics of Latvia and Estonia, were the first "to disappear behind the Iron Curtain and to suffer and expose the aggressive imperialism of Soviet Russia and thus to prize the world of the aims and technique of Communism," Anderson said.

Omahans Hit Road Building Wage Levels

The Omaha Building and Construction Trades Council contended Friday many wage levels State Engineer L. N. Riss is attempting to establish for Omaha area interstate highway construction are below the scales prevailing 10 years ago.

Larry Glynn, Council secretary-treasurer, said the minimum hourly rate for a carpenter in the Omaha metropolitan area in 1948 was $2.075. He added that the rate proposed by Riss for carpenters employed in interstate work in Douglas County is $1.95.

Glynn said cement finishers covered by Omaha union contracts received $2.075 in 1948, compared with Riss' proposed $1.85. Pile drivers who earned $2.20 in 1948 would get $1.50 now, and iron workers would receive $1.95 as compared with $2.175 an hour 10 years ago, Glynn contended.

'Prevailing Rates'

The union official said the higher figures were the "prevailing" rate in the metropolitan area under 1948 and 1949 union contracts. He described the metropolitan area as "all of Douglas and Sarpy Counties."

Protests by union organizations over the scales proposed by Riss have led to a delay in contracting for construction of an interstate traffic interchange west of Omaha.

Glynn said the U.S. Department of Labor, which is charged with predetermining scales paid for interstate construction where 90-10 money is used, had accepted union recommendations for 20 of some 60 job classifications involved. He added that the remaining 40 classifications are under study.

City Industry Buys Texas Marquee Firm

Vic 'Satisfied' With Report On Nebraska School For Deaf

Gov. Victor Anderson said Friday he was "satisfied" with the report given by the Board of Control on the Nebraska School for the Deaf at Omaha.

At an earlier press conference Friday, Mrs. Catherine Martin, Board of Control chairman, said a report from the president of the Conference of Executives of American Schools for the Deaf (CEASD) confirmed her opinion that the Nebraska school is "one of the finest in the nation."

The governor said he feels "we

No Special Truck Rates For Schools

The state attorney general's office held Friday that motor carriers operating in Nebraska intrastate commerce may not transfer goods at reduced rates for either a school board or county high school. The opinion said statutes governing intrastate commerce forbid this.

The opinion was requested by Richard H. Larson, State Railway Commission chairman.

Need Blueprint For Education -Dr. Maxson

Dr. Theron Maxson, president of Hastings College, speaking before a group of "friends of the college" said the need for a blueprint for education is the biggest ever.

And Hastings, he said, is meeting this challenge to college education with a number of research projects to insure a solid future for the college.

"Education is everybody's business today," Dr. Maxson said, "If we are to meet the needs of the modern world."

In the college's efforts to expand and offer "unqualifiedly good education" it will always remain close to its constituency of community and church, he emphasized.

Dr. Maxson spoke to a dinner meeting of nearly 100 Lincolinites who were brought together as friends of the college by Walter B. Schoggen.

Dr. Maxson took over the presidency of Hastings a year ago last September.

superintendent for the manner in which it is operated."

In the report on the school to Gov. Anderson, Mrs. Martin said that prior to receipt of a letter of complaint from Robert T. Reilly of Omaha, president of the Association in the Interest of the Deaf, "we had not received any complaints whatsoever for the past two years indicating that the school was not functioning properly."

"Considerable Time"

In a letter dated Feb. 10, Hester told the Board he had "spent considerable time visiting the school, its buildings and facilities." Hester said that he and School Superintendent J. W. Jackson had observed children in their classrooms and elsewhere.

Hester said it was his considered opinion that the caliber of the faculty of the Nebraska school is of a high order and would rank above the average in comparison with other schools for the deaf.

He said the only thing he observed "which appeared to me to be subject to improvement" was "crowding in some of the dormitories."

Hester noted that Jackson was "well aware" of this situation and is planning additional dormitory facilities so that the overcrowded condition will be relieved.

Mrs. Martin also released a copy of a letter written Thursday to Reilly in which she said that since he had not visited the institution, the Board suggested that he do so.

SHOES STRETCHED BY NEW LIQUID

Suffer no more the pinch of tight shoes. A new liquid stretch is aimed to relieve foot woes. The liquid formula was discovered quite accidentally by Frederick Schaeffer, a Los Angeles inventor.

What the liquid does is to increase the size of leather by as much as eight percent . . . and permanently, too! There's no shrinkage at a later time, as usually comes with ordinary shoe-stretching, because this chemical solution works on the cells of leather to make them larger, softer and more pliable.

The colorless liquid comes in a small bottle and takes no effort to apply. Just pour it on a cloth and rub on the tight area of the shoe. There's no harm to the skin, stockings or shoes, an dit is effective on suede, alligator and all other shoes leathers. Recommended for relief from corns and bunions. And children will get another six weeks wear from outgrown shoes. Get some soon!
